

BATTLE RAGES ABOUT JUAREZ

Attack Is Begun by Main Army of Insurrectos.

BULLETS FALL IN EL PASO

American Town Is Shaken by Cannonading and Three Persons Are Killed on Soil of United States.

El Paso, Tex., May 9.—For several hours a battle raged on the Mexican shore opposite this city, at the ends of the international bridges and in the town of Juarez.

The insurrecto army left its camp at 4 o'clock and advanced upon Juarez.
As the soldiers came within range of the federal guns a heavy fire was commenced, which was replied to with a fierce storm of bullets from the insur-recto ranks. The rebels, after taking the Mexican ends of both international bridges, advanced into Juarez, fighting as they went.

Bullets flew in all parts of El Paso from the guns of the contending armies and at least one man was killed on the American side, while many people were wounded and a score of El Paso houses were hit by flying bullets.
Bullets fell in the business section of town and elsewhere.

Colonel E. Z. Steever, commanding the American forces here, sent a note to Colonel Navarro, commanding the Mexican forces, protesting against shots being fired toward the American side. He also protested to Madero. Ex-Chief of Detectives Billie Smith, a British subject, took the official note to Navarro, carrying with him an American flag and a white flag of truce.

It was learned that General Juan Navarro, before the fight was underway, fled a protest with the American consul against "firing on federal troops from the American side." It was not previously known that any one had reported any firing done from this side. The federalists during the morning used cannon on the insurrectos and blew one bunch of insurrectos into eternity with a well directed shot against an adobe house.

The insurrectos did not attempt to use their cannon, in fact their main army did not join in any of the morning or early afternoon attacks. Madero declared steadfastly that he was satisfied with the Diaz letter regarding his resignation. At 4 p. m., however, Madero said that he had received information that the Diaz resignation had been misinterpreted and meant nothing and that he had nothing to do but attack. At once the army began to move on Juarez, led by General Orozco, all cheering. The two insurrecto field pieces, home made, moved up with the men as they advanced.

At 5 p. m. 600 insurrectos held the Mexican end of both international bridges and 300 had taken the first houses in the west end of Juarez. The federalists were not firing in reply.

Navarro, commanding Juarez, telephoned Mayor Kelly that he would not fire again into El Paso, even if the rebels attacked.

At 6 p. m. the fighting inside the town of Juarez was lively, and at least 200 shots a minute were being fired.
At that hour two long lines of insurrectos, part of the main command, began to approach from the direction of the insurrecto camp. The Juarez artillery opened and began shelling the mountains and draws in the direction of the approaching insurrectos.

Explosive shots were used. The cannonading shook El Paso. Every building in town has had the roof covered throughout the day with spectators and long distance telephone messages have been received from out-of-town people asking as to the prospects of the continuation of the fight so excursionists can come in.

At 7:30 Madero began moving with his staff from his headquarters, three miles north of Juarez, and declared that he would stop the fighting; that it was not a general attack. He said there were not over fifty men in the fight. At least 300 were counted going into the town at 5 o'clock, however.

At dusk the insurrectos advancing from the main camp had evidently halted, whether on an order from Madero or because of the federal fire of shrapnel from the big guns was not known.

Two American men were shot on the American side of the river near the United States immigration station.

about 7 o'clock. Both died before they reached the police station. One man was said by bystanders to be John Camp. The other had a paper in his pocket bearing the name R. H. Fernandez, Troop F, Third cavalry, San Francisco. This was the only means of identification. This makes three dead and four wounded in El Paso.

Two more wounded Americans, Cox and Willburton, have been brought in.
Firing was continuing, increasing if anything, at 9:45. The federalists had just fired a heavy gun in the direction of the rebel camp. A report to Captain Olin, United States army, in command of a part of the border guard, declared that one shrapnel, that had exploded over a band of rebels near "Peace Grove," where the peace conference had been held, killed at least a dozen of them. This happened about 6 o'clock.

SERMON DELIVERED BY REV. GARDAM AT ST LUKES CHURCH

Rev. William H. Gardam preached at St. Luke's Episcopal church Sunday morning on the text, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the ages." Towards the end of his discourse, Mr. Gardam spoke as follows:

"Many of these greater things to be done, many of these greater things Jesus Himself said should be done, and for the doings of which He declared all power should be given, are even now crowding the life of our own time. And this makes our own day a day of vast and impressive interest, a day we surely ought to be thankful we live in and to whose life and pressing problems we ought surely to be eager to make our own contributions.
And he or she who does not take this attitude towards his own day, who does not feel the burden of his day and interrogate God Himself with the question, 'Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?' who does not wear the livery of active citizenship in this crowded and eager world, not only does not know what an interesting world God has put him in, but is really dead while he lives.

"And among these greater things to be done, among the outstanding greater world-problems of our time, to which all good, wholesome, active citizenship must contribute something, both of service and sacrifice even,
there is no one thing that is so pressing our modern conscience and spirit as that of world-relations, the relation of one people to another, the duty of one people to another, how the world shall handle itself so that the inevitable differences which are the fruit of modern commerce or the outcome of race peculiarities shall be dealt with and met so that the things our Lord Himself stands for and has ever taught to the world shall be the guiding principles and inspiration of all this world of ours.

"A new spirit is undoubtedly making itself felt among the nations. The world today is beginning to realize that war settles nothing finally, that there are stronger forces in God's world than the forces of mere brute strength, that the dominant people who rightfully hold the sceptre of supreme power are not the people to whom war and the equipping of war command the largest share and interest in a nation's life. The Peace Congress now being held in Baltimore is telling the story of this new spirit which is gripping and controlling our modern world. And this movement is not a movement of one man or of one group of men. It is one of the greater things and is a movement of the spirit of the living God.

"There has been no greater thing in international relations in all history than this modern undertaking of tying the English-speaking world together and establishing such an understanding between ourselves and the British Empire as shall in effect say to the rest of the nations: 'As for ourselves and our relations with each other, our rivalries, our competitions, our race for supremacy in commerce or in world-influence, no battleship shall be chartered to settle or adjust our differences, no weapon of modern warfare, no standing army. We will reason ourselves into a good understanding each with the other, and if we cannot harmonize our differences by the art and reason of diplomacy, we will ask the judgment of a disinterested world.'

"I think the present proposed good understanding between the two dominant powers of our modern civilization in which our own president has had the honor of taking the initiative, has in it the largest promise for international justice and peace in all the history of this old world. I think moreover that Germany's eagerness and passion for armed supremacy, her almost insane ambition to be able to strike and crush any imaginary foe will ultimately prove her undoing and will retard and hold in check the march towards supremacy among world-powers she so passionately seeks.

"The world has grown beyond a condition of a nation's advancebrute force as a test of supremacy or

BILL TO REFORM HOUSE OF LORDS

Unionists' Measure Introduced by Lord Lansdowne.

HEREDITARY RIGHT IN DANGER

Government Says It Cannot Accept
Bill as Solution of Difficulties Attending Reform of Second House.

London, May 9. — Lord Lansdowne, leader of the opposition, introduced the Unionists' bill for the reform of the house of lords in that body. It is an alternative to the government's parliamentary or veto bill, which is pending in the house of commons.

The opposition bill reduces the number of members of the second chamber to about 350.

The possession of a peerage, under the terms of the measure, will no longer carry with it the right to sit and vote in parliament.

The new house of lords will consist of 100 members elected by the hereditary peers, 100 nominated by the crown and 120 elected by outside constituencies. None of the foregoing will hold a seat longer than twelve years, one-fourth of the total number retiring every third year.

The reformed house of lords under the provisions of the bill will also include the royal princes, the archbishops and bishops of the established church, the law lords and the judges of appeal.

Only peers possessing certain statutory qualifications will be eligible for election to the reformed chamber.

Lord Moreley, ministerial leader in the absence of Earl Crewe, said the government could not accept the bill as a solution of the difficulties of a reform of the second chamber. It would not, however, burke its discussion.

METHODISTS TO UNITE

Three Branches of the Church Represented at Conference.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 9.—Envoys of the three great branches of Methodism met to lay a foundation for the unification of the alienated divisions of the church. Plans for the federation were begun seventeen years ago.
The three branches represented were the Methodist Protestant, Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Episcopal church south.

The joint commission consists of twenty-seven members, each church being represented by nine commissioners. Its first session will be held Wednesday, to receive and act on the report of a subcommittee.

MANY VISIT POOLE FARM

Mementos, More or Less Grewsome, Carried Away.

Rumors that Another Body Had Been Found Proves Untrue, but Jail Is Guarded.

Fowler, Ind., May 9. — The Poole "murder farm" is now the mecca to which flock hundreds of people. Several thousand persons have visited the scene of the crime, and automobiles and conveyances of every sort have been packing the adjoining highways, while curiosity seekers trudged from one point of interest to another, carried away mementos of their visit.
Slivers have been whittled from the barn in which the body lay concealed, and the more morbid ones have carried earth from the grave tied in their handkerchiefs.

Sheriff Shackleton was notified that another spot resembling a grave had been discovered, but the excavating which followed revealed no new trace of crime.

The signed statement of Poole, which has just been obtained recites in detail the killing, and varies but slightly from his oral statements concerning the affair.

While the feeling against Poole has not subsided, Sheriff Shackleton does not feel that the prisoner is in danger of lynching, and although a heavy guard is maintained about the jail, Poole will not be removed from the county at present.

We are in the dispensation of a greater spirit. The conscience and judgment of the nations are finding a more excellent way. And this which we see and know today is 'one of the greater things' to be done, one of the greater things being done."

GRINNELL DAMAGE SUIT BEFORE CIRCUIT COURT WILL BE A LONG ONE

Ann Arbor, May 9.—The $100,000 damage case of Grinnell Brothers against the Cabel-Nelson Piano Co. and William H. Proctor, the plea for which was filed April 11, 1910, is in the circuit court this week and will probably not be completed for several days.

SCOUTS ACCEPT INVITATION TO DETROIT MAY 30

The fame of the Ypsilanti branch of the Boy Scouts of America, because of the really splendid work accomplished during the winter, is gradually spreading over the state.
The field secretary of Michigan, Mr.
J. A. VanDis, has secured and distributed the Washington Birthday programs as samples for other centers. Now comes from Scout Commissioner Eugene C. Foster of Detroit an invitation for Ypsilanti Scouts to participate in the grand parade and field contest to be held in Detroit upon Memorial Day. It is expected that Scouts will pour into the city from every direction and make the day one to be long remembered in the minds of all taking part. The Detroit Chamber of Commerce offers two pennants to be given as prizes to the troops winning the highest number of points in the various contests. One of those banners should be in Ypsilanti when the veterans arrive in June and it can be here if our Scouts will buckle to and
"Be Prepared."

At a hastily called meeting last evening the Executive Council decided to accept the invitation, providing a sufficient number of the Scouts can be in full uniform. Our outfitters say that these can be secured in time if orders are left with them before Saturday night of this week. The Council urge all boys to order the summer rather than the winter trousers, and to provide shirt, hat, belt, haversack and staff. It is possible that the new badges can be on hand by that date. It is now expected that a special car can be provided for the Scouts and that they will be well looked after without any expense to themselves. The special activities now being planned by Scout Commissioner Quirk for the Field Day Saturday of this week will serve as a partial preparation for those Memorial Day parades for those of Memorial Day.
Over two weeks will then remain for thorough systematic training in the various events. Whether or not the trip is made will depend upon the number of boys who order their uniforms this week—not next. Parents may rest assured that their boys will be most carefully looked after.

YPSI SIGNAL CORPS MAY BE ORDERED TO FIGHTING LINE

While nothing official as to orders has been received by the Ypsilanti Signal Corps, there is a possibility—even a probability—of the men being ordered down to the Mexican border, and that at any moment. Since the beginning of the agitation in those parts the men have held themselves in readiness to go south at 24 hours' notice. It is realized that any notice they receive will be extremely brief.

The Signal Corps is doing practical field work every week, of the sort that it would do in actual service on the border. Monday evening wires were laid out and telegraph work with the buzzers done, also work with colored lights and acetylene signal lanterns.

The Stony Creek Arbor of Gleaners will meet this evening in the grange hall.

CLEARY COLLEGE WILL OFFER SPECIAL SUMMER RATES

ity enrolling now, attendance to begin at their convenience. Every person interested in commercial education should regard this as a special opportunity. 509*

EXCELLENT PROGRAMS AT ANN ARBOR MAY FESTIVAL THIS WEEK

The 18th annual May Festival, given by the University Musical Society of the University of Michigan, will be held in University Hall during the four days, May 10 to 13 inclusive. The Theodore Thomas Orchestra, under Frederick Stock, will take part in all of the festival concerts, while the University Choral Union of 300 voices, under Professor Albert A. Stanley, will be heard in two performances.

Clarence Whitehill, baritone, will be the soloist at the first concert Wednesday evening, upon which occasion the program will be restricted to two nationalities, Russian and Bohemian.

Miss Perceval Allen, who has sung the soprano role in "Judas Macca-beus," many times in England, will appear Thursday evening, as well as Miss Janet Spencer, a great favorite in this vicinity. Reed Miller, who possesses a singularly beautiful voice, and Horatio Connell, who has won wide praise for his consistently musical work, will be heard Thursday evening in Judas Macabees.

Schubert and Wagner will be represented on Friday afternoon's program—Symphony No. 10, C major, by the former and scenes from "Tristan and Isolde" and "Die Gotterdammung" by the latter.

Mme. Bernice De Pasquall will be the soloist for Friday evening, for which time a particularly attractive program has been arranged. She is one of the leading prima donnas of the Metropolitan Opera company, and equally qualified for work on the concert and opera platform.

Following the custom of past years, a recital will be given on the Frieze Columbian organ, free to those who have May Festival tickets. It will occur Saturday at 2:30 and be given by Llewellyn L. Renwick. The program will be devoted to the work of Gullmunt.

The concluding concert will be given Saturday evening, at which time most of the singers will be heard in "Eugen Onegin" by Tschaiakowsky.

The afternoon concerts will take place at 2:30 and the evening concerts at 8 p. m., with the exception of Saturday, when the program will begin at 7:30.

MRS. M. BRICKERT PASSES AWAY AT CAUGHTER'S HOME

Mrs. Mary Brickert, 79, died Monday afternoon at 2:30 after a few days illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Ohlinger of 13 Oak St.
Mrs. Brickert sustained a stroke of paralysis a short time ago from the effects of which she never recovered.
Both Mr. and Mrs. Brickert were born in Nuremberg, Germany, the latter coming to this country when she was 20 years of age. She was married to Mr. Brickert when she was 22 years old. His death occurred last fall. She leaves four sons, George of Alalind, William of Holt, Thomas of near Mason and Clarence of Mason, and two daughters, Mrs. Sophia Walker of Danville and Mrs. Emma Ohlinger of this city.

Services were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Ohlinger, at 3 o'clock this afternoon and the body taken to Mason for burial Wednesday.

MOTION MADE TO SET ASIDE ORDER IN VAN- DUSEN DIVORCE CASE

Ann Arbor, May 9.—In the case of Thomas J. VanDusen against Mary VanDusen a motion has been made to set aside the order granting a rehearing. This is the case in which a year ago Mr. VanDusen applied for a divorce. A decree was granted but was never signed until recently when it was entered. The defendant had this order set aside and has received permission for a rehearing. Complain-

FINAL REPORT ON NEW FEDERAL BUILDING IS SOON TO BE RETURNED

A representative of the federal government was in the city yesterday to look over the proposed site for Ypsi-lanti's new federal building. A meeting of a few of the citizens was held at the postoffice in the afternoon and an adjourned meeting was called to meet at Cleary College at 7:30 last evening.

At this meeting about 100 people gathered and discussed three sites which the government official came to consider. The owners of three different sites have put in bids to the government, as follows: The VanCleve property, located on the southeast corner of Congress and Adams streets, the "Ark" property so called located on the southeast corner of Washington and Pearl streets, and the Lambie property located on the northeast corner of Washington and Pearl streets.

It seems the government called for bids for a piece of property on a corner next to the main business section and toward the railroad depot and comprising 140 feet on each street.
The VanCleve property has 140 feet on Adams street and offers 140 or more feet on Congress street at $60 a front foot, which would make this bid for 140 feet frontage on Congress street, $8,400. The Ark property was stated to be 103 feet by 138 feet, and was understood to comprise —103 feet on Pearl street and 138 feet on Washington street. The bid on this property was $18,000. This property however comprises, besides the old Ark property proper, two of the adjoining Batchelder stores, which undoubtedly accounts for the larger bid necessarily put in for this property. While the government pays nothing for the buildings, they would require that they be torn down and removed, and this would entail considerable expense, and the loss of course of two pieces of well rented property.

The Lambie corner has 141 feet on Pearl street and 140 or more feet on Washington street. The bid for this property was $10,000.

The commissioner explained that it was not the custom of the government to pay more than 20 per cent of the appropriation for the site. Inasmuch as our appropriation is $75,000, this would mean that the government would not probably pay more than $15,000 for the site. By some this was thought to entirely eliminate from consideration the Ark property, but the representative of the government informed those present that the government would not deny the owners of this property the privilege of lowering their bid.

Quite a number of citizens expressed their opinion and of course it was impossible for those owning property nearer one site than the other not to favor the site which would improve their own property the most. More of those present however spoke in favor of the VanCleve property than any other property, and a standing vote of those present showed a large majority voting for the VanCleve property. George Lockwood was unqualifiedly in favor of the corner of Pearl and Washington streets and cited as his chief reasons that it was immediately contiguous to the center of the business district and that the electric line passing it would enable the city to get the largest possible advertising value from the thousands of people who would pass by and see our federal building, while on the other site comparatively few would see it. Mr. Lockwood fac-tiously remarked that he thought would be profited by a location on the

SUNDAY AFTERNOON AT THE GROVE COSTS JOHN THUMM A GOOD HORSE

A horse belonging to John Thumm, Jr., met with a sudden end Sunday afternoon. Mr. Thumm had driven him to Arbetter grove and hitched him along with other horses there. A nearby horse became restless and kicked him, breaking his leg. The horse had to be shot.

ternoon.

NOTICE.

M. W. of A., will be held Wednesday this week instead of the regular night, Thursday. Initiation. 509*

that the property owners which VanCleve property had drummed up an attendance at this meeting, and that he didn't think it was a really representative meeting. But James McGregor insisted that a notice had been put in the evening's paper that same evening, so that everybody must know about it.

Professor Cleary was selected as chairman of the meeting and J. H.
Hopkins was secretary.

In addition to Mr. Lockwood, Mr.
Gaudy, Mr. Hoch and Mr. Comstock spoke in favor of Washington and Pearl, while P. W. Ross, John Burtis, James McGregor, Atwood McAndrew,
A. W. Woodbury, E. R. Beal, Mrs.
George, Mr. Dunlap, Mr. Fletcher, Mayor Towner, and others expressed a preference for the VanCleve property. Mayor Towner remarked that he passed the postoffice three times a day but didn't enter it three times a year, and the students could get their stamps at Zwergel's book store, so it didn't make any difference where the postoffice was located. Somebody remarked that they hoped the federal representative wouldn't go away with the idea that we really didn't need any postoffice after all.

Mr. Hatch was asked for his opinion and conceded at the outset that he would be regarded as an interested party, because they had put in a bid.
He said among other things that citizens had requested them to put in a bid and they had done so, that the bid put in was regarded as a fair price, that it was a lower price than they had paid for property adjoining it in two more remote directions from the center of business, but that, entirely apart from that, he felt that the corner of Washington and Pearl streets was the only location that was really within the requirements of the government bid and that he thought it would be the most convenient location as well for the majority of the people. Among the reasons named for favoring this site were the following:

To people themselves had voluntarily approved a postoffice site for thirty or forty years in the same immediate vicinity, that the hear end of the Lambie property wouldn't be more than 100 feet from the present postoffice, where the people have gone for their mail for a third of a century; that the rear end of the Lambie property, for example, would not be more than 100 feet from the present Pearl street entrance of the postoffice. He further said that it seemed to be incontestable that the city had been growing for thirty or forty years toward the northwest, that one evidence of this was found in the fact that in the main business block of the city between Washington and Huron streets on Congress street, the north side of Congress street commanded from 30 to 50% more rent than the south side of the same street in the same block, and that a further evidence of this tendency of the growth and center of convenience for the people is found in the fact that they have erected their churches in the main within three blocks of the
streets, their fire department three blocks from this corner, the high school the same distance, their municipal building between this corner and the two railroad depots, the city li-

"A GOOD SUGGESTION."

The suggestion of F. E. Quigley in a communication to the Press yesterday, that the citizens of Ypsilanti express in some suitable way their appreciation of the services rendered to the city and the state by President Jones, of the Michigan State Normal College, is one which we believe will find the response of approval in the minds and hearts of every citizen of our fair city. President Jones is perhaps the last man in town who would welcome any demonstration; he is a man of retiring habits, a man who works constructively, but quietly and with distinguished efficiency.

Mr. Quigley has been at the hub of our state capital's political center for a long time and quite intimately in touch with our state officials and those prominent throughout the state who journey to the state capital in furtherance of the state's interests, and he undoubtedly expresses the appreciation which is general of President Jones' efficiency as a worker for the big central star in our normal school system.

That we did not get the $125,000 appropriation for our much-needed new auditorium is not the fault of President Jones. That he succeeded in getting it approved by both branches of the state legislature in the adverse atmosphere created by the governor is certainly remarkable, and what was actually accomplished for our college in the way of the increased amount for expenses actually allowed is under the circumstances about equally remarkable. President Jones already has our appreciation, but we believe it would do us good to express it in some concerted way.

"SAVE NIAGARA."

That splendid unmaterialistic appreciator of the real virtue in, and value of, civic and national beauty, the American Civic Association, is out with an earnest appeal for every country-loving citizen to wire his senator or representative to vote for Senate Joint Resolution No. 3, which continues the terms of the original Burton bill during the life of the waterways treaty and hence protects for a long time to come the beauty and the grandeur of Niagara Falls from being diverted by the electrical trusts and this great scenic wonder utterly ruined.

Hon. William Alden Smith, one of our United States Senators, is a member of the senate committee on foreign relations which has to do with this matter. This committee will meet tomorrow, Wednesday, May 10, and the telegrams should pour in to that meeting. A community is regarded by the interests it stakes in itself, fish things and we hope that Ypsilanti will be found on the map with a goodly number of telegrams of interest in this great work of preservation.

We have sent this telegram to Honorable William Alden Smith, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.:

"Support Senate Joint Resolution No. 3 and save Niagara."

Will not you do the same and do it today? And letters could also be possible be written to Hon. Charles E. Townsend, United States Senate, Washington, D. C., and Hon. William W. Wedemeyer, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., asking their support of this resolution.

Do it today.

Give the Kidneys Help and Many Ypsilanti People Will Be Happier. "Throw Out the Line"—The kidneys need help.

They're overworked—can't get the poison filtered out of the blood.

They're getting worse every minute.

Will you help them?

Doan's Kidney Pills have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back from the verge of despair.

Mrs. Catherine McCullough, 10 E. Congress St., Ypsilanti, Mich., says: "I was often troubled by pains in my shoulders and could hardly walk. My kidneys were badly disordered and the kidney secretions were unnatural. Last winter I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and was led to procure a supply at Weinmann-Matthews Co.'s Drug Store. I began their use and in a short time felt so much better that I continued taking them until the pain and lameness in my back disappeared and my kidneys were restored to their normal condition. I am now eighty-one years of age and I attribute my good health to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Cookery Points

Giving a Luncheon.

An important point to remember always in entertaining is that it is not nearly as important to serve many courses or much in each course as to serve everything very prettily and take infinite pains in the garnishing of the different dishes and the way that they are passed and served.

Here is a suitable menu: Grapefruit cut in halves, the fruit scooped out carefully, the tough membrane and seeds removed and the fruit flavored with lemon juice and powdered sugar and a little maraschino, if you wish, and put back into the halves with a few candied cherries used for decoration on top of each half. This course should be ice cold, and each half should rest on a plate with a dolly and be eaten with an orange spoon or tea spoon.

For a second course have bouillon in cups, but do not have croutons; they are not en regle at a luncheon. It would be superfluous to have the orange juice, oysters and bouillon. Orange juice by itself would be rather an unusual course, and it would not be advisable, and oysters on the half shell are seldom seen now at a luncheon. The grapefruit will not cost any more than the other two courses and is exactly the thing for the first course.

Creamed salmon in ramekins served individually will be correct for the fish and third course, and brown bread sandwiches, the bread cut very thin and the sandwiches in fancy shapes, will be a good addition.

Halves of broiled chicken served on toast with currant jelly, potato croquettes and green peas or French string beans will be all right for the substantial course, but it would not do at all to have chops afterward. Omit that course altogether; the birds are enough for the meat course.

Roman punch may come after the birds, served individually in punch glasses or ice molds. Waldorf salad served in apples, with cream cheese, heated crackers and bar-le-duc jelly will make a good salad course. Do not pass olives with it. If they are served they should be a separate course, coming between the bouillon and fish. They should be passed with radishes, celery stalks and salted nuts.

Strawberry shortcake would be a better dessert than ice cream, or you might serve a frozen pudding with a sauce if you prefer it to strawberry shortcake. As a final course have bonbons and fruit and serve coffee in demitasses in the parlor after luncheon.

Chocolate passed in cups with whipped cream on top would be correct if it is liked. The chocolate cups and saucers should be removed when the table is cleared for dessert. If an additional course is desired have between the fish and fowl fried sweetbreads with green peas and have some other vegetable with the birds.

The oyster fork may be put on the oyster plate or at the left of the cover at the head of the other forks, put a little slanting, or laid regularly by the forks. The knives are always put on the right of the cover. With the menu given above you will need only one knife for the birds and a small silver knife for the salad course, for the cheese and bar-le-duc. Have the table prettily decorated with spring flowers and bonbons and decorations to match.

Lobster Novelties.

The hostess who is tired of plain lobster salad, lobster farci or lobster Newburg will find a pleasant change in lobster cocktail as a first course, in fried lobster for a fish course and in creamed lobster on toast as main dish for a family lunch as well as a fish course.

For the cocktail cut the meat of boiled lobster into good sized pieces—about half the size of an oyster—and serve in a sauce made of a tablespoonful each of Worcestershire sauce, tomato ketchup and lemon juice, flavored highly with cayenne, a drop or two of tabasco, salt and a teaspoonful of fresh grated horseradish.

Mix the lobster in this sauce and let it stand on the ice until well chilled. Serve in glasses like the oyster cocktail. Instead of the ketchup a pleasant change is made by using chili sauce or Oscar sauce in the dressing.

Cut as big and shapely pieces as you

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

can get for the fried lobster, which is first boiled. Dip in eggs and bread-crumbs, fry in boiling fat just before serving and drain on brown paper. Serve with a hollandaise sauce, to which are added chopped olives and a little onion juice, or with a sauce tartare mixed with fresh peas.

Dice boiled lobster that is to be served on toast and marinate in a little lemon juice for a few minutes. In the meantime make a rich cream dressing or white sauce, highly seasoned with cayenne and a few drops of onion. Add the lobster to the hot sauce. Let it simmer only for five minutes and serve at once on hot buttered toast.

Celery Toast.

Laurels by Telephone.

Lieut. William B. Short, ordnance officer on the staff of Maj. David Wilson, has the reputation of being the most expert wing shot among the ordnance officers of the state. On Monday last, in company with Col. N. B. Thurston and Maj. E. B. Bruch, ordnance officers on the staff of Maj. Gen. Roe, Lieut. Short tried his hand at pigeon shooting up on the Sound and never missed a bird. Col. Thurston was so pleased with the record that he telephoned to a florist near the residence of the lieutenant to have a suitable laurel wreath ready, and he presented it to the lieutenant on the way home.

FOUL BROOD.

By R. H. PETTIT,

PROFESSOR OF ENTOMOLOGY OF MICHIGAN AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

WARM spring weather is calling to the bees, and by this time it will be possible to select such colonies as have failed to come through in good condition.

Now every bee keeper knows that there are many causes of winter killing—lack of sufficient stores and chilling frequently causing losses—but in the present state of affairs the unaccountable death of a colony or of several colonies may be regarded with suspicion, because of the increasing prevalence of foul brood in our state.

Foul brood is a name given to two diseases which attack the growing

PROFESSOR R. H. PETTIT,

grub, causing them to die, and, if not checked, it rapidly becomes epidemic, spreading through an apiary quickly, and ending usually by killing everything there.

Of course, many bee keepers are familiar with the better known American foul brood, which attacks the brood at about the time of capping and reduces the grubs to a sticky, evil-smelling mass, but not all are familiar as yet with the European foul brood, a disease quite distinct from the former, but equally dangerous.

This European foul brood usually attacks the brood earlier in its development, while it is still curled up at the base of the cell. The larvae or grubs are said to become slightly yellow or grey in appearance and to become slightly translucent, later becoming more decidedly yellow or grey, and opaque. Afterward it collapses and dries up, becoming a greyish-brown scale, easily removed.

An extended and careful account of both diseases and treatment is soon to appear, as Farmers' Bulletin No. 442, United States Department of Agriculture, by Dr. E. F. Phillips.

Now the object of this article is to issue a warning to bee keepers who may not be aware of the presence of this newer form of trouble and to strongly advise closing the entrance of any hives where the colonies have died or where they are practically all dead, in order to prevent bees from healthy colonies from robbing, and thus spreading the disease.

Of course death may be caused otherwise than by foul brood, but one should regard such loss with suspicion where the cause is not perfectly clear, until after a careful examination has been made and the cause determined.

ALFALFA DOES WELL ON SANDY SOIL.

In general, alfalfa can be grown quite successfully on sandy and gravelly soils. The chief difficulty in connection with these soils is to get the alfalfa plants well started, but when once established under these conditions, the crop will do better than any cereal or grass crop that could be used.

A PROGRESSIVE SENTENCE.

Fined $10, Prisoner Asks For More and Finally Gets Six Months.

Dominick Hearn, after being fined $10 in a New York court wanted more and got it as follows:

"You'll wait for that $10, you four-eyed galoot!" he shouted to Magistrate House.

"I'll change that fine and send you to the workhouse for twenty days," said the magistrate.

"Av g'wan, make it more," said the prisoner.

"One month," replied the court.

"Once more," shouted Hearn.

"Two months," said the magistrate.

"Do it again," sneered Hearn.

"Six months," adjudicated the court.

Hearn then demanded a year and expressed his opinion of Magistrate House in caustic terms. It took three policemen to remove Hearn from the courtroom.

"I wish I could have made it a year," said Magistrate House. "Unfortunately six months is the limit."
